Excerpt: .of stationary waves, or interference, or nodes or loops. It was known how to calculate the length of such waves, and even how to produce them of any required or predetermined wave-length, from 1,000 miles to a foot. Other things were known about them which would take too long to enumerate; any homogeneous insulator would transmit them, would repeat or concentrate them if it were of suitable shape, would reflect none of a particular mode of vibration at a certain angle, and so on. All this was known, but Hertz supplied the verification. He inserted suitable conductors in the path of such waves, conductors adapted for the occurrence in them of induced electric oscillations, and to the surprise of every one, himself doubtless included, he found that the secondary electric surgings thus excited were strong enough to display themselves by minute electric sparks. Such was...
